

Regional economic development partners

Attracting investment and jobs to Cincinnati, Ohio is more competitive than ever.

Collaborating on economic initiatives and programs to create the right incentive package for prospective businesses, has created the winning advantage. These are the regional economic development partners making it happen:

REDI Cincinnati is responsible for attracting new business, jobs and investment to the Tristate region of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. Their focus is marketing the region domestically and internationally, generating and managing prospects, identifying retention issues and opportunities and partnering with local communities to win projects. The Cincinnati USA Partnership is also JobsOhio's Southwest Ohio regional partner. www.redicincinnati.com

JobsOhio is a private, nonprofit corporation that leads the state's economic development efforts and is focused on promoting Ohio as the ideal location for business success. Its mission is to create jobs, attract capital investment and stimulate job growth. Working collaboratively with the Cincinnati USA Partnership, they are able to strategically pursue opportunities in Southwest Ohio in a responsive manner. As a result of this partnership, the state is able to be more proactive and competitive when streamlining the evaluation and incentive approval processes. City of Cincinnati's targeted economic development strategy includes identifying commercial/industrial redevelopment opportunities that help to create jobs and increase the tax base. The City of Cincinnati works cooperatively with the Ohio Development Services Agency on the issuance of various bonds, grants, loans and tax credits that can assist companies as they grow and create jobs in Ohio. www.choosecincy.com

Hamilton County Development Company is a full-service business development agency having a public purpose to retain and create jobs, and improve the local economy. These three program areas provide business financing, community economic development, and assistance for entrepreneurs. www.hcdc.com

Port of Greater Cincinnati
DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

The Port of Greater Cincinnati Development Authority is an economic development agency that initiates projects to improve property value and promote job creation within the City of Cincinnati and throughout Hamilton County. The Port Authority works collaboratively with dozens of economic development, community and corporate partners. www.cincinnatiport.org
